SCARED SKINNY: a one (hundred pound lighter) woman show written & performed by Mary Dimino

Sunday, September 9, 2012

3 PM - 5 PM

Bearsville Theater
Woodstock, NY

Price: $15

“SCARED SKINNY” with Mary Dimino is a stand-up comedy show about a girl who grows up fat, funny and afraid in an Italian family from Queens. Dimino, now one hundred and fifteen pounds lighter, braves the footlights & flash bulbs of the world with her story. “SCARED SKINNY” in its world premiere was named Winner of Best Solo Show in New York City Fringe Festival.

Big spotlights, stage lights, press attention, radio interviews can be concentrated on the positive in all this jumble of the media calling Olympic athletes “fat,” people feeling alone and isolated, kids and adults hurting themselves. By showcasing “SCARED SKINNY,” we very publicly hope to illuminate more coping skills & options to help counteract a media culture that focuses on only the superficial – your weight, your hair, your nose – rather than your accomplishments.

H. G. Fairfield Arts, along with Bearsville Theater in Woodstock, is proud to present a fat girl’s voice from Queens in “SCARED SKINNY” with Mary Dimino on Sunday September 9th. Come learn more about our Media Arts Workshop and resources in your local communities. Mary invites; “Come laugh your fat off in Woodstock!”

There will be a Q&A following the show!
